Here in Hawaii, we have some of the most beautiful sunrises and sunsets in the world. We also have clean air and a bright blue sky with clouds in it. So, have you ever thought about taking a little time each day to go outside and look up at the scenic views? This goes for wherever you live. Maybe you can use a little imagination to see some cool cloud shapes or images. This article contains mostly pictures of clouds, so you don't have to do much reading. I hope you like it!

Yes, these are clouds

I hope you enjoyed this article about clouds. Here are two little known facts about me: I was a weatherman (Aerographer's Mate) in the Navy and my nickname was The Big Drifter. If you want to learn more about clouds, go to my website and find the article I wrote on 22 July 2009 titled CLOUDS. Now, I'm going to ride off into the sunset.
